Christine: Thanks for the heads up! Perhaps to our advantage, pitches have once again been pushed - this time, to the week of september 24

Christine: someone didn't realize that the judging committee members had scheduled vacations all through the next few weeks... apparently that's the first time they'll all be back together

Christine: I will definitely take a look at the Tripwire stuff- been seeing hints of it on Facebook, although I haven't had time to read much of it yet

Christine: your mom was awesome last weekend, btw... and I also had a great skype session with josh hawkins, although the file I recorded with him ended up corrupted for some reason
